Records of the Claims Committees

The Southern Claims Commission

The Southern Claims Commission was established in 1871 to settle claims of Southerners who remained loyal to the Union during the War Between the States (Civil War)

These records contain valuable genealogical information and are among the most heavily researched of all House records. A typical case file contains the following types of records: a form petition; an application to have testimony taken by a special commissioner; a deposition or testimony of the claimant or a witness; summary report of the Commissioners of Claims; and miscellaneous other papers such as oaths, memoranda and evidential documents. These give information regarding the claimant, the circumstances of the purchase or seizure of goods, and the value of each item.

The claims submitted to the Southern Claims Commission are listed in alphabetical order by the name of claimant in the Consolidated Index of Claims Reported by the Commissioners of Claims to the House of Representatives from 1871 to 1880, (Washington; Government Printing Office, 1892), compiled under the supervision of J. B. Holloway and Walter H. French. A total of 22,298 claims seeking more than $60 million in damages were submitted to the Commissioners of Claims under the Act of March 3, 1871. The Commissioners barred 5,250 of the claims, authorized payment of $4, 636,229.75 in claims, and disallowed over $55 million.
